Mississippi River Becomes Great Inland Sea

FLOOD CONDITIONS MORE SERIOUS AND RIVER THREATENING TO SMASH RECORDS

Women and Children Are Being Removed From The Danger Zones

FREIGHT TRAINS RUSH TO SCENE WITH SAND

Desperate Efforts Are Being Made to Save the Levees

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 21.—Congress today approved an appropriation of $1,000,000 to aid states in the Mississippi valley to cope with the growing flood menace. A resolution providing for the use of this money was adopted by the house soon after it convened and concurred in by the senate. The funds will become available as soon as the bill is signed by the President.

The senate's action broke all legislative speed records. The bill was received from the house, referred to a committee, reported on favorably and passed within three minutes.

VICKSBURG, Miss., April 21.—A veritable inland sea, the great Mississippi river, representing a volume of water a dozen times greater than that at Niagara Falls, continues to rise slowly, though at a stage greater than ever before recorded.

Today's rise was one-tenth of a foot, the gauge here being 54.3 feet. Good weather prevails and this makes levee work easier. Army of officers are here and are ready to begin government relief work if it becomes necessary.

Tenants in the overflowed area between Vicksburg and Rolling Fork are daily becoming in a more desperate plight and now are living on the levee. Tents and rations will likely be supplied them.

MEMPHIS, Tenn., April 21.—Flood conditions along the Mississippi river, particularly on the Arkansas side, are becoming increasingly serious and indications are that the river will reach the highest point in history.

The crest is not expected to be reached for three days.

For 50 miles along the river south of Helena, Ark., hundreds of men, including convicts from the state penitentiary, are at work strengthening the levees.

A procession of freight cars is enroute from New York with sand bags for use in the lower Mississippi. A million of these bags are for Greenville, a city of 20,000.

Government officers agree that if the levee at Greenville breaks, the loss of life will be heavy. At Ferriday Jonesville and a number of other towns in Louisiana, across the river from Natchez, all women and children are being removed to the hills on the Mississippi side.

Caravans of cattle, horses and automobiles filled with household goods also are being ferried across.

WASHINGTON, April 21.—Congress will be asked to give its immediate approval to an appropriation of $1,000,000 to aid the states of Louisiana, Arkansas and Mississippi to prevent threatened floods through the breaking of the levees along the Mississippi river, it was decided at a conference today between Senator Lansdell, of Louisiana, and director of the budget Dawes.

Resolutions authorizing the appropriation will be introduced in both the senate and house this afternoon.

WEATHER

FOR ALABAMA—Generally fair tonight and Saturday; no change in temperature.

FIRST PICTURE FROM ILLINOIS FLOOD TERRITORY

Many homes were washed away, railroad tracks swept from their moorings and thousands of acres of land inundated by the flood that swept through parts of Illinois and Indiana, entailing a loss of nearly fifty lives. Here is the first picture of the flood crest as it swept away railroad tracks at Beardstown, Ill. A thirty-foot levee in the Mississippi Valley gave way and the maelstrom of gurgling waters rushed madly into the little city. The mound from where this remarkable picture was taken was swept away five minutes after the camera man had completed taking the picture.

U. S. RECOGNITION OF RUSSIAN SOVIET APPEARS NEARER

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 21.—Recognition of the soviet government of Russia by the United States in one form or another is nearer today than it has ever been.

This statement reflects the views, not only of those who have consistently advocated such an American policy, but also of those who have been most pronounced in their opposition to the Moscow soviet and all its work.

While no responsible administration official would hazard publicly a prediction today of how soon such an event will take place, it was nevertheless admitted privately that the United States has been brought to the very verge of recognition by the swift moving chains of events in the past few weeks.

LOCAL PEOPLE ARE PRIZE WINNERS

The Cleveland Metal Products company, manufacturers of New Perfection kerosene oil cook stoves and heaters, announces through its distributor, the Standard Oil company of Kentucky, that Miss Sophia M. Walk, 1223 Tower Ave., Albany, was successful in winning a handsome prize in a recent $5,000 prize contest which it conducted.

The contest was one in which letters were submitted containing suggestions for new or unusual uses for New Perfection heaters. It was national in scope, and the first and second prizes were respectively, $1,000 and $500 in cash. An Alabama man, W. L. Caldwell, of Birmingham, was the winner of the second prize of $500 cash.

Miss Sophia M. Walk, of Albany, was winner of one of the lesser prizes, namely an Aladdin enameled steel double boiler.

The winning of a prize in a contest of such broad scope is quite an honor. Miss Walk's letter was one of more than 30,000 which were submitted from all over the United States.

COMPANY INCORPORATED

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 21.—(Special)—Report of the incorporation in Mobile of the National Floor Tile company with an authorized capital of $144,000 was received by the secretary of state today from the probate judge of Mobile county. The company proposes to complete plans at once for the manufacture of floor tile and other building materials on a large scale. W. D. Bollingrath and other business men of Mobile are the incorporators.

HUNDRED INJURED BY GAS EXPLOSION

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, April 21.—One hundred persons were injured, some fatally, when a big tank of gasoline, owned by the Standard Oil company, exploded at Downey, according to reports reaching here. Only meagre details were received by the police and county authorities.

Telephone connection between Downey and Los Angeles was cut off by the explosion, delaying the summoning of aid for the injured. All available ambulances were summoned with physicians and nurses. The explosion, it was said, damaged houses, hurled debris a great distance and shattered windows.

WHOLE TOWN SAID TO BE IN RUINS AS EXPLOSION RESULT

(International News Service)
ATHENS, Greece, April 21.—Practically the whole town of Monastir, in Southern Siberia is in ruins today as a result of the explosion there Tuesday of an ammunition dump in which was stored all the refuse of war materials of former armies in the near east.

Inhabitants of the town, a medley of all nations, numbering about 45,000, are homeless, many are seeking refuge in the surrounding mountains.

No details of the number of dead yet are available, due to the paucity of communication so far established with the ruined town.

All reports say conditions are pitiful and great excitement here prevails among those who were fortunate enough to escape death or injury.

No further reports have been received today of conditions in Salonika, where a like disaster was reported yesterday to have taken place.

It is now believed that the report from Salonika should have read Monastir, but in telegraphic transmission the name of the Siberia name was dropped.

FORD DISAVOWS SOME OF CLAIMS MADE FOR HIM

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 21.—Henry Ford has disavowed some of the claims made in his behalf by his friends.

The Detroit manufacturer, it was learned today, has sent a letter to Secretary of the Treasury Mellon, in which he stated that the authors of "the truth about Henry Ford" did not consult him as to all the details.

The correspondence with Mellon arose out of the assertion made in the book that Ford returned to the government $20,000,000 in war profits.

Mellon began it by writing Ford about it, and Ford's reply is understood to be the effect that he did not write the book and is not responsible for some of the statements made. The Ford letter will not be made public.

VERDICT UPHELD

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 21.—(Special)—C. W. Williams will collect $900 from the Woodward Iron company as a result of a decision of the supreme court Thursday which affirmed the judgment of a jury in the Jefferson circuit court. Williams was injured by an engine operated by the company and sued for $3,000.

"Y" MEMBERSHIP CAMPAIGN WILL BE LAUNCHED MONDAY FOR ONE HALF YEAR

C. W. Matthews Accepts Responsibility for Leading Drive Another Term

ABLE LIEUTENANTS
LEND THEIR SERVICES

Well Attended Meeting Held Last Night In the Y. M. C. A.

Decision was made at an enthusiastic and well attended conference at the Y. M. C. A. last night to begin the half year membership for the "Y" Monday, the 24th, and continue it the remainder of the month. By unanimous decision most of the former active workers in previous campaigns were asked to participate this year. By unanimous vote, C. W. Matthews, generalissimo of a number of other such campaigns, was chosen to lead again. Mr. Matthews said he had hoped a change would have been made and that it was a mighty easy thing for a company of men to wish a big burden off on some body else, "but since you have put it on me," he concluded, "we will try and see that a 'go' is made of the business." He specified that he must have his old "first lieutenants," Ott Hames and E. C. Wilson, of former campaigns, to assist and also that W. W. Rahm and C. D. Patterson or men they might name, must lead the membership campaign in the up-town districts. All but Mr. Hames, of the assistants, demanded by Mr. Matthews were present and signified their willingness to work as usual.

Meeting Opened by Wolf
E. R. Wolf, chairman of the committee of management of the association, presided last night and in opening declared that the meeting was called "by members of the board and friends of the 'Y' to meet Mr. Randolph, the newly elected executive secretary, and to devise ways and means for a successful membership campaign."

Mr. Wolf called only three speakers, Mr. Matthews, Mr. Randolph and Mr. Rahm, but he urged the other men to tell voluntarily what they would do for the success of the campaign. Every man present declared before taking his seat that he was heart and soul for the support of the association and would go the limit for the success of the campaign. At the close enthusiasm ran high, and if there was a doubt as to the overwhelming success of the "drive" when the meeting opened it had been dissipated before its close.

Matthews Called First
Preceding the conference an enjoyable dinner was served to the company by 'ladies of the Westminster Presbyterian church. When the covers were removed Chairman Wolf arose and stated that many of the men present knew the object of the meeting and that he would detain them only long enough to introduce Mr. Matthews who he characterized as "the wheel horse" that had made things go in previous membership drives.

"When the people are convinced that the 'Y' will give service and Christian service," stated the general chairman, "we will have little difficulty in getting the desired number of members." This speaker took occasion to commend Mr. Randolph, the new secretary, as a person in whom all could put the utmost confidence. Also all the other speakers who had met Mr. Randolph declared their firm conviction that "the right man was in the right place." Mr. Matthews recalled the friendly associations of the last campaign and said that as the present was for a term of only six months and the membership only $2.50 he saw no reason why the tasks

POWER COMPANY CASE IS AFFIRMED

(Montgomery Bureau, Albany-Decatur Daily)

MONTGOMERY, Ala., April 21.—The Alabama Power company must pay J. R. Hines, of Gadsden, $700 because the conductor of a street car became angry and struck Mr. Hines on the head with a metallic cash register. The supreme court Thursday affirmed the judgment of the circuit court of Etowah county.

Mr. Hines sued for $2,000, contending that the conductor provoked the difficulty when Mr. Hines protested the collection of two fares. The defense sought to show that Mr. Hines provoked the trouble.

In another unusual case from Etowah county the supreme court affirmed the action of a jury in awarding Edna May Manning, four year old girl, a judgment for $500 against B. M. Martin, et al, operators of a drug store, in compensation for injuries to the child's eyes alleged to have been caused by strong drugs which were placed in a prescription in lieu of harmless drugs prescribed by the physician. The child sued for $10,000.

Mrs. Lucien Boer, of Montgomery, won her suit for damages against the American Railway Express company for the loss of a Russian sable fur which was stolen while being transported from New York where it had been repaired. The fur was returned to Mrs. Boer after it had been held by the government as evidence against the employee of the express company, who was convicted. She sued for $250 and obtained a judgment for $175.

The court in another decision held invalid an ordinance of the city of Russellville which sought to impose a graduated tax on all citizens for the collection and disposition of trash and garbage. The Citizens Bank and Savings company of Russellville declined to pay the tax, contending that it was not within the province of the city to impose it. The Franklin circuit court ruled against the city and the supreme court sustained the decision.

FORMER SENATOR HOPES UNCLE SAM OR SOMEONE WILL OPERATE PROJECT

Butler Declares Fertilization One Of biggest Problems Facing the Nation

NECESSITY OF PLANT IN WAR IS DISCUSSED

Appears in Behalf of Offer Made by Frederick Engstrom

(International News Service)
WASHINGTON, April 21.—The cheapest fertilizer nitrate in the world can be manufactured at Muscle Shoals, it was declared today by former Senator Marion Butler, of North Carolina, before the senate agriculture committee.

Butler asserted that inventions by army and private engineers when put into operation at Muscle Shoals would revolutionize the fertilizer industry and would enable the Alabama project to "more than successfully compete with every other fertilizer producing nation in the world."

The former senator urged acceptance of the offer made by Frederick Engstrom for leasing Muscle Shoals. The Engstrom offer, he said, had been amended to eliminate the Warrior steam plant and to change the compensation asked by congress.

In the amended offer, Engstrom would receive 33 1-3 per cent of the excess power from Wilson Dam and 25 per cent of the excess power sold from Dam Number 3 after it is accepted.

"If you senators don't like Mr. Engstrom's offer or the Ford offer or any other offer, then let the government operate the project," Butler said.

"It is the biggest problem facing us today, not only from the farmers' viewpoint, but from every consumer in America. It will be nothing short of criminal to let this great project waste. Its necessity in time of war is beyond question. It might easily be the deciding factor in the next great war involving this country."

"The nation which will win the next war will be the one with the greatest productive resources. At this moment America is wasting production but to discard Muscle Shoals would be a folly. If the Engstrom offer is accepted, we could manufacture fertilizer by the cyanamid process as cheap as any other nation in the world."

"We will probably start by losing money but with improved inventions we absolutely believe we can make fertilizers cheaper than Chile. By using the Haber process there is no question that we can produce the cheapest nitrate in the world."

'GREATEST SELLING FORCE IN ALL THE WORLD AVAILABLE TO EVERY MERCHANT'

The value of persistent and judicious advertising is shown in the wonderful sales attained for apparently insignificant articles, and the fortunes built up through the popularizing of such things as chewing gum, which sells for five cents a package, and usually but one package to a purchaser.

When a company making an article that sells at retail for five cents spends $11,000 a day to advertise that article, the advertising must pay and it must have a tremendous pulling power, for it takes a great many nickles to make $11,000, and that can necessarily be but a small portion of the daily sales of the article advertised, for the advertising must come out of the profits made.

For instance, William Wrigley, Jr., president of the William Wrigley, Jr. Co., of Chicago, says that his company made the year 1921, generally regarded as a pretty bad period for most business concerns, the best year in the 30 years his company has been in business. The company manufactures chewing gum of a brand that has been made known to everyone by the advertising the company has persistently done.

Mr. Wrigley goes on to say that his company this year is spending $11,000 a day for advertising and pushing the sale of his chewing gum, and he adds:

"The judicious use of printer's ink is the greatest selling force in the world. If you do business on a world-wide basis, or even in the locality encompassed within a few blocks, you have got to keep the people interested or you won't sell them your goods."

Coming from a man who has given newspaper and magazine advertising thirty years' trial, who has had the nerve to spend millions of dollars each year advertising an article that sells for five cents a package, and who now is spending $11,000 a day advertising that article and finds it profitable, this statement should carry weight. It is not as if a newspaper advertising man said it, or that it was said by one who had tried the experiment only in a limited way. It is a statement amounting to a conviction, made by a man who assuredly knows, because he has put his millions into the experiment and has drawn many more millions out of the sales the advertising created.

This chewing gum maker, who has reached the highest point in business success, also says another great truth. He says: "The greatest cure for hard time is to stop talking about hard times, and to get to work and keep money and goods circulating." There is some good, solid logic in this statement.

Perhaps it is to be expected that such a man as Wrigley would be optimistic. It is the optimistic man who has the most success. He says business is improving in the East and that this condition is spreading to the middle West by degrees. He says also that the good old American dollar is coming back into its own and that people from one end of the country to the other are getting back to the idea that the only basis for real prosperity is an honest day's work for a fair day's wage.

"The United States, as a whole, has been on a 'business spree' for the past five years. Prices up to recently were out of all sense of proportion for the value received," this successful man declares. Now we are sobering up. The 'business spree' ended somewhat abruptly some months ago and we since have been, as a people, getting over the effect. Mr. Wrigley thinks we are about over it, and that from now on business will be on sober, sane lines, but just as profitable as in other times.

There is a valuable hint to business men generally in Mr. Wrigley's statement about the judicious use of printer's ink. The only real force that can be put back of selling nowadays is the power of advertising. No matter what excellent lines of goods a man may have, if he does not let the buying public know he has them he will not sell them. Good advertising, and that means regular, persistent, truthful advertising in newspapers, bring seller and buyer together as no other agency can, and if the advertising is backed up with the goods, the result will be satisfactory in every way and in every instance.—Anniston Star.

IS ANOTHER WAR LOOMING.

The unpleasing possibility of Russia and Germany joining hands seems to have taken definite form at last. Since the fall of those two countries before the Allied armies, statesmen among the Allies have looked with deep concern upon every move or suggestion that seemed to indicate German-Russian alignment. A menace is seen, especially by the French people in the proposed new alliance. Leaving out of account the character of the two countries, the fact that Russia has unlimited man power, and Germany technical skill in warfare and organizing ability, have great weight. The Russians were inferior in the World War, but would not her millions behave quite differently if trained and officered by German militarists? Besides the Russians and the Germans have not unlearned the fearful lessons of war, as have such countries as England, France, and the United States. Those countries can still send cannon, fodder forward into battle, while the more enlightened countries are not so easily sent to the cannon's mouth.

In an important sense the nations who won the war have invited the German-Russian alliance.

They have barred them from the League of Nations, and they have inflicted many post war handicaps upon them. There was a prophet, without honor in his own country, who saw just what was going to take place. He denounced secret agreements and balance of power arrangements, and advocated a league made up of all nations. That prophet was Former President Wilson, and he might have put his dream over, if his own people would have agreed with him, and thereby forestalled the German-Russian alliance. Some papers say official Washington is unmoved by the new secret agreement, but as many or more papers say that official Washington is moved and greatly moved by the turn of events in Europe. Are we not connected with the Supreme council of the victorious Allies, with George Harvey as our representative in that old fashioned, balance of power arrangement, and since a new counter alliance is arising in Eastern Europe, are we not getting back to pre world war conditions pretty rapidly?

Arthur Brisbane says that the German-Russian treaty is the most significant thing since the signing of the armistice in November 1918. A great many express themselves as believing that the agreement in question is the first starting along the road to another bloody world war. Germany may be expected to try to escape from a part of her indemnity obligations by the aid and consent of Russia, but if she attempts to repudiate, as the Russians have repudiated the Czarist debts, what will the outcome be. Would the Allies submit? If great armies again start to sweep across Europe, and threaten civilization as the Germans did in 1914, this country will be caught once more, and perhaps forced to take part in a war we had no part in starting. Had the Senate of the United States been fair minded and patriotic, it would have realized that wars must be stopped, and that the best way to stop them successfully is before the bands begin to play and the horses smell the battle from afar. Be it said to the everlasting shame of members of the Senate that refused the League of Nations, that they were too much absorbed in personal politics, and petty gains, to see the world at large as it really was, and to take some action to forestall the possible wars of the future. If the logical thing happens, Europe will see red again, and again she may go in for another bloody war—if so will history repeat itself—will we have to fight in another European war, just as we were forced to fight in 1917?

A STORY WITH A MORAL.

An interesting story is told illustrating the habit of wanting always to buy something raised away from home, deeming it better than home raised products. The story goes that a planter in Alabama had a quantity of Irish potatoes. He sold the entire product, deeming them not fit for planting seed. In barreling them ready for shipment he accidentally dropped his spectacles in the barrel. It was headed up and shipped to a Northern market. Next Spring when he desired to plant again he went to his dealer and bought a barrel of potatoes. To his surprise when he opened them up and began to make ready for planting, what should he find but his spectacles lost nearly a year ago in the same barrel which he shipped off. This story brings out the following interesting point. This barrel of potatoes had been shipped to a distant market, resold to the merchant and shipped back to the same section from whence it came, resold to the planter who raised them, freight added to the cost both ways, and should the planter not found his spectacles would have been entirely satisfied with the stock and have known no better. A great moral is wrapped up in this story whether true or not. It illustrates a point very forcibly.

The great and the good of every clime have left their impress. They get into the history of a country without any effort on their part. They are indeed a part of the country and its life; they very vitally affect it. They usually seek no publicity, the great. They go about their daily life unfettered and devoid of any publicity, but, publicity come to them naturally; they cannot avoid it; it is a natural sequence to their daily efforts. Many have lived and died, and not until after they left the walks of men were their real motives in the conduct of their life's work disclosed. They made no house top announcements. Quietly they go about their duty as they see it, scattering a flower here and there; taking the thorns out of some pathway where tender feet must tread; speaking a kind word; manufacturing a smile for others to wear. Can the helpfulness and blessings which issue from such a life be measured? Not here does it always meet its just deserts, but out yonder somewhere—it will.

Happy is the man who knows his limitations and always stays within due bounds. In doing this he does not constantly have to render excuses for this and that and the other. He knows what he can accomplish, knows his shortcomings and his down settings and does not constantly have to apologize for that which he is not. In other words stay within the circumference of your hardness of life; one can work better and the work be more acceptable.

There is good reason to believe that the powers that are now behind the coal strike in their efforts to unravel and find out the real cause will arrive at a decision which will be in the nature of a decision of justice. The late move to have the operators divulge just what profit they were making on the labor of the miners plus the product may reveal something of a startling nature of which the public is in absolute darkness.

It is surprising that many who live on farms will continue to buy hay from year to year when as much of it grows in this section as does and a large quantity absolutely goes to waste each year for want of harvesting and storing. To say the least of the practice, it is a great drain on the resources of the country, and enriches other sections that make a business of saving and curing to sell to us.

The very things which we had hoped to do many times are not afforded us. We can however do much to make them a reality if the desire is there and there is no procrastination allowed to creep in along the way. Procrastination snatches many opportunities. There are many drawbacks to any undertaking. Ambition is the scythe which cuts the way.

EXAMS HELD

The state examination of teachers was held at Hartselle recently with 69 taking the examination. Sixty of these were white and nine negroes. Four stood for the first grade. This is around the normal number who have taken the examination in recent months, and is much larger than the number of applicants a year or two ago.

NO OLD WOMEN NOWADAYS

Modern dress, hair dressers, facial experts and cosmetics all combine to keep women of all ages young and attractive in appearance. Not until the telltale wrinkles become so deep, the figure stoops, or some ailment or weakness develops to drag a woman down does she really look her age.

Every woman owes it to herself and her family to keep herself young in appearance, and happy. When headaches, backaches or "the blues" develop or when a woman reaches the trying age from 45 to 50, Lydia E. Princess Theater Monday and Tuesday

Princess Theater Exhibits Strong Convincing Picture

The picture exhibited at the Princess theatre last night, "Why Girls Leave Home" could have been well named "Retribution" to great advantage. The old saw of "If you will dance you must pay the fiddler" is emphasized by the story and carries a lesson to parents who fail to make home attractive to their boys and girls. Should business cause the father or social demands cause the mother to fail in this to the neglect of the young, dire consequences may follow. Home life is the foundation stone upon which the security of civilization rests. This picture is being shown again today and tonight and it is well that all nature men and women should see it. The cast is in capable hands and the portrayal may be the means of serious reflection and profit.

"Y" Membership Drive Launched

ahead were not easy of accomplishment. He declared that Christianity alone could make a neighborhood fit to live in, and that the association sought to promote Christian service. He said without the "Y" there would be a barren place in the community. Mr. Matthews spoke of the new lawn tennis courts, the volley ball court at the shops, and the increased interest in the shop meetings.

Secretary Randolph Speaks
The new secretary made a splendid impression by his speech of last night. He said he believed in a Y. M. C. A. with great emphasis on the "C". He said the present membership fee paid for service, but that it was not sufficient to pay for "privileges." In this he was backed up by Gilbert Crane, a former "Y" secretary, in a brief speech. The new secretary urged that men needed to play more by all means. "If we can make a success in six months," he said, "then we will have no trouble when the next campaign opens."

The third and last speaker formally called was W. W. Rahm. Mr. Rahm pledged his best efforts for the success of the campaign, saying among other things that he proposed "to give a membership this time to everyone who bought a suit of clothes from me." This statement was greeted with cheers and laughter.

Mr. Matthews called an executive meeting of campaign workers to meet in his office at the shops at 3:45 this afternoon.

Load of Cotton Seed Sold Here

A very unusual thing for this season of the year was the appearance on the streets of Albany Thursday evening of a large load of seed cotton. The cotton was a good staple and was sold to local buyers, being another example of the fine marketable value of cotton the year round. If kept in a clean, dry place cotton and cotton seed will keep indefinitely.

CASE UNDER ADVISEMENT

D. C. ALMON

In this issue will be found the announcement of D. C. Almon for reelection as solicitor of this circuit.

Mr. Almon is no stranger to the people of Lawrence county, as he first saw the light near Moulton on the 11th day of February, 1867, and spent his life on the farm in this community until 1904 when he moved to Morgan county, Alabama.

He received his early education in the public schools of Lawrence county and the Institute of Moulton, under the tutelage of Prof. C. G. Lynch. He is one of the many that Prof. Lynch started in life that has made good.

Mr. Almon has been prosecuting attorney in this circuit for sometime and has always discharged his duty fairly, impartially and ably. He has a big heart and there is no man, woman or child in Lawrence county that does not know Dave Almon and can go to him and make his wants known and he will be ready and willing to hear and give the same attention.

He was elected as the first Democratic member of the legislature in 1900 to represent Lawrence county since 1874. The people, recognizing his ability, elected him as a member of the constitutional convention from the Second senatorial district, composed of the counties of Lawrence and Morgan to frame the new constitution under which we now live. He was appointed solicitor of this circuit on his birthday, the 11th of February, 1902, by Wm. D. Jelks, who was then governor, to succeed the Hon. Dick Lowe, who had just died. Since that time he has filled this office with credit to himself and to the people of the circuit. The voters of Lawrence county believe in him and have always voted for him, and at no time that he has ever run for office has he failed to carry Lawrence county. His friends predict that he will carry it this time by a large majority than ever before. His popularity in other counties in the circuit is shown by the endorsement of the Limestone county bar and county officers, which we publish in this issue of our paper.—Moulton Advertiser.

Darkey Puzzled Over Monument

An old darkey was seen standing on the sidewalk near the courthouse intently viewing the veiled Confederate monument. He was noticed to gaze at it for some time when he started to chuckling to himself and was heard to say: "I've seen your like before," evidently referring to the days of the Ku Klux Klan, who always went abroad veiled in white. He evidently did not know the meaning of the monument which stands to the memory of the Confederate soldier, his curiosity being aroused over the veil which was drawn over the statue until the time of unveiling and dedication takes place.

INSURANCE MAN TELLS OF FRIEND'S RECOVERY

"He suffered considerably from gas on stomach and colic attacks, and at times was very yellow. His doctors diagnosed his ailment as gall bladder trouble and that an operation was necessary. Some one persuaded him to try Mayr's Wonderful Remedy. Since taking it one year ago he tells me he has been able to eat anything." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.—Advertisement.

FRENCH PREPARE TO OCCUPY THE RUHR

(International News Service.)
PARIS, April 21.—The French general staff is making plans to occupy the Ruhr district alone if the British are unwilling to participate, according to the newspaper L' Oeuvre, commenting on the situation growing out of the signing of the Russo-German treaty.

All of the newspapers continued to comment in a war like tone. A report given considerable prominence had it that the French program is to have a Franco-British pact guaranteeing the Polish border.

THE NEW CALOMEL IS DELIGHTFUL IN EVERY WAY

Sickening and Dangerous Qualities Removed—Medicinal Virtues Retained and Improved—Calotabs the New Name.

You have heard of smokeless powder, wireless telegraphy and colorless iodine—now get acquainted with nausea-less calomel—a calomel tablet that is wholly delightful in its effect, yet retains all of the system-purifying and liver-cleansing qualities of the old style calomel.

Your doctor will tell you that calomel is the best and only medicine for biliousness, indigestion and constipation and now that it is pleasant to take everybody is taking Calotabs—the improved de-nauseated calomel tablet. One tablet on the tongue at bedtime, with a swallow of water, that's all—no taste, no nausea, no danger. Next morning you wake up feeling fine, your liver thoroughly cleansed, all biliousness, constipation and indigestion removed. Eat what you please—no danger.

Beware of imitations! Genuine Calotabs are sold only in "checker-board" (black and white) packages bearing the copyrighted trade mark "Calotabs." The large family size sells for 35 cents; the vest pocket size, 10 cents. All dealers are authorized to refund the price if you are not delighted with Calotabs. Advertisement.

BIRTHS

HARTSELLE BUREAU OF ALBANY-DECATUR DAILY

J. ADLAI WEST, Correspondent.

Leave items of general interest, including social, personal, current happenings, at Peoples Drug Company.

A play entitled "Toney, the Con-vict," was played with such splendid effect recently at the grammar school that the players have been requested to repeat it. They have agreed to do so and will produce it again, adding some new musical features on Monday night.

An interesting program was carried out at the grammar school Friday afternoon by the members of the Parents-Teachers association. The following program was rendered: Social life of parents in regard to children; song, America; paper by Mrs. Walter Poole; talk by Mrs. Huie. The P.T. association has made for itself a most important place in the civic life of the town and is most helpful in carrying forward those ideas which tend to the betterment and uplift of the child life of every locality.

Rev. T. M. Flemming, state enlistment secretary, addressed a large audience at the First Baptist church Thursday night.

The first ripe strawberries to be brought to town were raised by J. L. Woods, the veteran grower east of town. Mr. Woods has made a success of the berry business, he having been engaged in specializing in this crop for the past several years. Due to his achievements in this line others were induced to plant some acreage to this crop also.

Rev. Robt. L. Harrell, pastor of the First Christian church, has announced a series of revival services at his church beginning May 14. He has been fortunate in securing the services of Harry K. Shields, one of the noted tenor solo singers of the country who will be with him throughout these services.

Walter G. Johnson, county agent, has just returned from Montgomery and other points in South and Middle Alabama. He attended a meeting of the farm bureau organization while gone, and reports that 25,000 bales of cotton have been signed up to date in the cotton pool. Only one county in the state has signed up a larger number of bales than Morgan county.

P. Pattillo and wife are at Montevallo visiting the mother of Mr. Pattillo. They will be absent for several days.

Dunbar Bager, of Tampa, Fla., was at home with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Bager, one day recently, stopping off on his way to St. Louis, where he goes on business. Dunbar has lived at Tampa for several years, being special representative of the Eli Lilly company. He was formerly in the drug business at this place, and has a host of friends who are always glad to see him.

Rev. R. M. Howell has announced special service at the First Methodist church for Sunday evening. At this time he will preach a sermon to the young people from the theme "A Young Man Away from Home." The music will be in charge of the Epworth League, who have prepared a special song service for the occasion. A splendid time is anticipated.

The Hartsville cornet band, under the direction of its director, Paul W. Barcliff, is making splendid progress and will soon be in form. It is understood that the band will give free concerts this summer, reviving a custom carried out by the band members several years ago, when on summer evenings they would meet from three to four evenings in each week for the entertainment of the downtown people. It is understood that a band stand will be built near the station at an early date.

High Scores Made At Weekly Shoots

WEAK; RUN-DOWN

Carolina Lady Got So She Could Just Drag—"Cardui Built Me Up," She Declares.

Kernersville, N. C.—In an interesting statement regarding Cardui, the Woman's Tonic, Mrs. Wesley Mabe, of near here, recently said: "I have known Cardui for years, but never knew its worth until a year or so ago. I was in a weakened, run-down condition. I became draggy—didn't eat or sleep to do any good; couldn't do anything without a great effort. I tried different remedies and medicines, yet I continued to drag. I decided to give Cardui a trial, and found it was just what I really needed. It made me feel much stronger soon after I began to use it. I began to eat more, and the nervous, weak feeling began to leave. Soon I was sleeping good. 'Cardui built me up as no other tonic ever did.' I used Cardui with one daughter who was puny, felt bad and tired out all the time. It brought her right out, and soon she was as well as a girl could be. We think there is nothing like Cardui."

Do not allow yourself to become weak and run-down from womanly troubles. Take Cardui. You may find it just what you really need. For more than 40 years it has been used by thousands and thousands, and found just as Mrs. Mabe describes. At your druggist's.
